

NEW YORK IS WIDE OPEN

THE BRAKES OFF FOR GAMBLING AND OTHER FORMS OF VICE.

Broadway at Night Is Thronged With Members of the "Sporting Fraternity" From All Parts of the Country.

New York, May 4.—Permission to open all the big and little gambling houses has come from that mysterious source which is respected by gamblers and police alike.

The "official" announcement is made that "times will be good" in New York at least until after election. Broadway is fast becoming crowded with gambling house proprietors, dealers, touters, steers and pullers-in. Faces that were familiar in the Tenderloin district before District Attorney Jerome drove the owners into retirement are again in evidence. From all parts of the country expert dealers have come back to New York to go to work.

Broadway is filled from early evening until dawn with such disreputable characters that it is dangerous as well as disagreeable for respectable women to be out without proper protection. The days of Charles Akron and the Tivoli are back again. Sixth avenue below Thirty-second street is in a condition such as it never knew before.

It was only a short time ago that the district attorney, commenting upon conditions as he saw them in formation, made the prediction that in six weeks they would see New York as "wide open" as ever it was in its history. His prediction has been fulfilled. The police have dropped back to the old excuse, "we can't get the evidence."

TO BE A MODEL BOULEVARD.

Washington Avenue Plans Sent to Council by Kansas City, Kas., Park Board.

Plans for converting Washington avenue into a boulevard have been worked out in detail by the engineers of the Kansas City, Kas., park board. While it is the purpose of the board to make Washington avenue the base for a system of boulevards in Kansas City, Kas., the plans for the present include the improvement of Washington avenue from Third street to Eighth street, and Fourth street from Washington avenue to the city limits. The plans and specifications will go to the mayor and council to-morrow night for the adoption of a resolution upon which bids for the work are to be received.

"According to the plans the Washington avenue boulevard is to be constructed on lines similar to the boulevards in Kansas City, Mo., which have been accepted by many cities in the United States as the best and most attractive, as well as the least expensive boulevards for large cities."

"We intend to make a model boulevard," said Dr. S. S. Glasscock, a member of the board this morning. "When it is finished it will be as attractive as anything to be seen on the Missouri side."

Washington avenue now is 100 feet wide and has a fine base of macadam put down many years ago. It is planned to make a forty-foot roadway with a twenty-foot parkway on either side.

LAY ALL NIGHT IN THE RAIN.

Men Found Jerome Bridges Unconscious Under a Bridge Over Rock Creek.

Linemen for the Metropolitan Street railway who were stringing wires this morning over a trestle over the Independence electric line crosses Rock creek found an unconscious man lying on the bank of the creek. His clothes were soaked with water and probably he had been lying there all night. He was taken on a work car to the Ninth street car barn and later to the emergency hospital, where it was found that his fourth rib and breast bone were fractured. After some treatment he became partly conscious and said that his name is Jerome Bridges and that his home is in Vienna, Ill. He has been working at Fairmount park. It is believed he fell from the bridge last night. He was taken to the general hospital. His condition is dangerous.

TO TRY MRS. MORASCH AGAIN.

A Second Jury Is Being Impaneled in the Poisoned Candy Case.

A start was made this morning towards impaneling a jury in the district court of Wyandotte county for the second trial of Mrs. Sarah Morasch, charged with murder. Mrs. Morasch, who is also known as Mrs. Sarah Miller, is accused of sending poisoned candy through the mail that caused the death February 12 of 4-year-old Ruth Miller, her niece by marriage. The first jury stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal.

The jury to decide on the evidence of the second trial will be selected from a special panel of 100 men. It probably will be two days before the taking of evidence begins. At the session of court this morning three jurors were accepted subject to peremptory challenge.

GRANTED LAND FOR FACTORIES.

A Joliet, Ill., Man Tells How His City Attracted Manufacturers.

K. C. Buckeye, who says his initials stand for Kansas City Buckeye, but whose residence is in Joliet, Ill., is at the Savoy. "The Pittsburgh of the West," is the way he describes Joliet. "We have all kinds of factories in our city and we are getting a lot more of them."

"How did your city get them?" he was asked.

"The people there made concessions of land and other things," he replied. "The 'Factory Facts' that your city is sending out is good advertising. I have heard many favorable comments."

FOUR MORE CANDIDATES FILE.

J. A. Callahan Would Be Surveyor and John N. Davis Would Be Administrator.

The supply of candidates for the Republican and Democratic primaries continues heavy. Four filed declarations in the office of the county clerk this morning. They are:

J. A. Callahan, Democrat, candidate for county surveyor.

Thomas B. Buckner, Democrat, candidate for judge of criminal court.

James A. Henley, Republican, candidate for constable, Eighth district, Justice Remley's court.

Dr. C. H. Carson's Case This Afternoon.

The case of Dr. C. H. Carson, charged with practicing medicine without a license, is set for trial in Judge Porterfield's division of the criminal court at 2 o'clock this afternoon. There have been many continuances.

MORE SHOWERS ARE COMING.

The Weather Conditions Are Unsettled, the Observer Says.

8 a. m. ... 49.12 m. ... 58.8
9 a. m. ... 50.1 p. m. ... 58.9
10 a. m. ... 53.1 p. m. ... 58.8

The weather would have been fair and warm yesterday, but something happened, the observer said this morning. The something that happened brought a belated April shower early this morning, with nearly an inch of rain and a wind that blew at the rate of forty-four miles an hour for five minutes at a stretch. Conditions are still unsettled, with the outlook favoring showers or thunderstorms to-morrow and to-morrow morning. The lowest temperature last night was 46. To-night it will be warmer.

NO GAME, WET GROUNDS.

Rain Prevented the Scheduled Conflict With Toledo.

The fourth game of the series scheduled for this afternoon with Toledo was called off owing to the wet grounds. The Mudhens will leave to-night for Milwaukee. Columbus is scheduled to open a series of four games with the Blues to-morrow.

COUNTY LICENSE TO FOREST.

The Jackson Court Acts on One of the Park Beer Applications.

The county court granted a dramshop license to-day to J. D. Tippett, the manager, to sell liquor at Forest park. The application has not been acted on by the police board. The Forest park application received no dissenting vote. No protest was made to the court.

The petition of W. F. Smith for a license to sell liquor at Fairmount park will be heard May 15. A remonstrance against issuing the license has been filed with the county court, alleging that Smith's petition does not have sufficient signatures.

The court has the petition of Gilbert Morton for a license at Electric park. No remonstrance has been filed with the court.

An organization for systematic work in opposition to the granting of a liquor license for Electric park is to be formed by property owners and residents of the twelfth ward. A mass meeting will be held to-morrow night at the Linwood Boulevard Presbyterian church for the purpose of forming the organization. For the purpose of effective work the ward is to be divided into precincts containing four square blocks, with a man in charge of the work in each precinct.

A JOLT FOR "MIKE" ROSS.

The Mayor Ousts a Man Recommended by the Democratic Chairman.

The appointment of an elevator operator has caused a little friction at the city hall. C. J. Rundberg, city hall engineer, is a Republican who is waiting for Mayor Crittenden to name his successor. He has assumed to continue the rule of naming or discharging his own subordinates as prescribed by ordinance. When one of his elevator operators quit, instead of appointing a Republican who would soon be removed by the city, a Democrat, recommended by M. C. Ross, chairman of the Democratic city central committee, and Alderman Michael Cunningham of the Sixth ward.

"I had to keep the elevators going," Rundberg said when questioned by the mayor.

To-day Rundberg received a letter from the mayor. It read:

"You will please put Howard Forbes in the place you filled without authority."

Rundberg said he would do as the mayor requested. But he expressed concern about what Ross and Cunningham might do.

TO CONDEMN ITS WATER PLANT.

Judge Moore Receives a Petition to Proceed in Kansas City, Kas.

A petition for the condemnation of the plant and works of the Metropolitan Water company, by which Kansas City, Kas., intends to own and control its water works, was presented to Judge McCabe Moore at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

H. L. Alden, city counselor, suggested, in a memorandum to Judge Moore, the names of fifteen men who would be acceptable as commissioners to appraise the property.

"I have not had time to read the petition," Judge Moore said on his way to luncheon.

"It will be a day or so before I shall appoint the commissioners."

The attitude of the Metropolitan company, which is expected to oppose municipal ownership, has not yet been made public by its representatives in Kansas City, Kas.

A SMALL TORNADO IN TEXAS.

No One Killed by a Storm That Struck Abilene.

PARIS, TEX., May 4.—A tornado twenty feet wide struck the village of Ambia early to-day and destroyed three houses, two barns and a smokehouse. A blacksmith named Ben Nedder was injured. A cabin sheltering eleven negroes was destroyed and one negro was injured.

GIRLS' CLOTHING IN A BOAT

THE PEOPLE OF LEEDS, MO., BELIEVE IT WAS A DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

The Costumes Identified as Those of Two Gypsy Children Who Were Begging in the Town Yesterday—The Gypsies Have Disappeared.

Clothing of two children was found in a boat in Leeds, seven miles southeast of Kansas City, early this morning and people there believe that either a double murder or a double suicide has been committed.

Carl Cramer, a paperhanger, was walking across the bridge that spans the Blue at Leeds when he noticed a neatly folded bundle on the seat of a skiff tied to a girder of the bridge. He notified D. J. Ratliff, a deputy marshal, and an investigation was made. The clothing was apparently that of two young girls. Both outfits were complete, consisting of underclothing, skirts, waists, etc. The articles had been placed carefully in the boat in a way indicating that the wearers had discarded them leisurely.

"Why, that looks like the jacket that gypsy girl wore when she came to my house begging, yesterday," Ratliff exclaimed. He had picked up a silk-lined woolen blouse of peculiar pattern.

"It's the very coat," several bystanders corroborated.

"There were two girls, one of them wearing this jacket, who appeared to be about 14 years old," August Luther, a florist, added. "They came to my house begging, and told us they belonged to a gypsy outfit that has been camping on the river several days."

Mr. Ratliff went to the camping place of the gypsies, but they had moved away some time last night. The Blue will be dragged this afternoon, because Leeds people believe the 14-year-old girl and her sister were drowned. Ratliff has organized a party to search for the gypsies.

ASKS $3,500 FOR BEING TRIPPED

Two Independence Boys Sued by Sarah Kinkaid, Who Says She Was Crippled.

Alleging that she has been made a cripple for life by having been tripped on the sidewalk with a rope, Sarah Kinkaid, a young girl of Independence, brought suit there to-day for $3,500 damages against Ellis Bailey and Ellis Short, Jr., two boys. The action is brought in the name of the girl's mother, Mrs. Kate A. Kinkaid, as next friend. Both of the boys are under 18 and their fathers, Earl Bailey and Ellis Short, Jr., are made parties to the suit. Mr. Short is a bishop in the church of the Reorganized Latter Day Saints and president of the Jackson County bank of Independence.

The petition says that the accident happened January 30 of this year while Miss Kinkaid was walking on Walnut street between Grand avenue and Electric street in Independence.

HARRIMAN ASKS 100 MILLION.

Union Pacific Stockholders Expect to Vote a Bond Issue.

New York, May 4.—E. H. Harriman announced to-day that the stockholders of the Union Pacific Railroad company will be asked at their meeting in Salt Lake City to-morrow to authorize an issue of 100 million dollars of bonds. He said that 50 million dollars of this amount will be reserved for issue under strictly guarded provisions for the construction or acquisition of new lines and additions.

Mr. Harriman's statement follows:

"The financial requirements of the Union Pacific have been such that the minimum amount needed at this time to put the company in funds does not exceed 25 million dollars, but we wish to resume development and put our people to work. In no event, however, will more than 50 million dollars of the bonds be issued against the properties now owned. While the stockholders will be asked at their meeting to-morrow to authorize an issue of 100 million dollars of bonds, at least 50 million dollars of the amount will be reserved for issue under strictly guarded provisions only for the construction or acquisition of new lines and additions."

THE FREELAND BILL IS DEAD.

A Vote of Thirteen to Three Against the Financial Measure.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The House committee on banking and currency voted to-day thirteen to three to lay the new Freeland financial bill on the table. Those voting in the negative were Burton, Weeks and McKinney. It was decided to ask Speaker Cannon that the committee be given sufficient time, a week if possible, for the discussion of all pending currency measures pursuant to and under the ordinary rules of the House.

A DECLINE IN THEOLOGY?

Kansas City Ministers Discuss a Tendency Toward Pulpit Skepticism.

A lively discussion about whether the churches are losing their hold on the people took up most of the morning at the meeting of the Ministers' alliance in the Grand Avenue M. E. church this morning. The Rev. Z. M. Williams, presiding elder of the M. E. church (South), read a paper on "The Decline in Great Convictions." He said that there was "a widespread skepticism in the pulpit," a decline in the religious convictions in regard to the divinity of Christ, and an attitude toward popular amusements that was demoralizing.

"We are following in the path of the European countries, and coming to regard the Sabbath as a day of physical and social enjoyment," he said. "Our parks are filled, while the churches are sparsely settled. Commercialism is absorbing the life of our people. These things may lead to a denial of a personal God."

The younger men in the meeting made vigorous speeches in refutation.

The Rev. J. W. Coontz of the Oakhurst M. E. church was first.

"In spite of shows and brass bands our churches and Sunday schools are full," he declared. "Missionary activity has never been greater; there has never before been such a widespread moral reform."

The Rev. Wallace M. Short of the Beacon Hill Congregational church defended the modern tendency to do practical works rather than discuss theology.

"We had better cease to insist that we must prove the miraculous," he said. "We must combine religion with usefulness—in the meantime holding fast to the things that we know we believe."

The Rev. Daniel McGurk, pastor of the Grand Avenue M. E. church, sided with the younger men by speaking optimistically, but confessed that the old religious convictions for which Dr. Williams had pleaded, ought to be restated in modern terms.

Dr. Williams' address makes him appear to be an alarmist, but I think he has simply overstated," was the way the Rev. W. F. Richardson of the First Christian church, commented on the discussion.

Marshall A. Hudson of Syracuse, N. Y., president of the Baraca union of the United States, spoke on Bible study. Dr. McGurk and Dr. E. L. Mathias, chief probation officer, described the work of the Juvenile Improvement association.

Rev. Albert Bushnell spoke about the opportunity the alliance had to express its ideas on liquor traffic before the board of freeholders. A committee of five ministers was appointed to draw up some recommendations to submit to the board.

The Rev. J. M. Cromer was elected president of the alliance, and the Rev. J. N. McGinley re-elected secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Carrie Lee Carter Stokes, acting president of the W. C. T. U. of Missouri, obtained the co-operation of the Ministers' alliance in the movement started by the W. C. T. U. for a safe Fourth of July.

The alliance instructed its executive committee to represent it at the meeting of delegates from the churches and patriotic societies of the city which is to be held in the Grand Avenue M. E. church May 12. The grand alliance will be to be made for a patriotic celebration which will not include giant firecrackers, torpedoes or "blank" cartridges.

FLEET AT SAN FRANCISCO NEXT.

Admiral Evans Is About to Take Command at Santa Cruz.

SANTA CRUZ, CAL., May 4.—To-day is the day fixed for the reunion of all the warships of the Atlantic fleet. The second squadron of eight ships will weigh anchor at Monterey some time during the afternoon and steam across the bay to Santa Cruz. It is expected that they will join the first squadron before 5.30 o'clock.

The Alabama, with Rear Admiral Sperry in command, will lead the way, with the Kentucky, Kearsarge, Maine, Ohio, Missouri and Minnesota following.

Admiral Thomas has announced his intention of going aboard the Minnesota this evening soon after the second squadron arrives. He will not lower his flag on the Connecticut, however, until Rear Admiral Evans comes from Paso Robles.

Admiral Thomas' staff lieutenants, K. G. Castelman and E. D. Berrien, will return to the Minnesota with him.

A BARBER ENDS HIS LIFE.

The Suicide of Robert Lake, Out of Work, With a Razor.

Robert Lake, 50 years old, a barber, who recently came from Iola, Kas., ended his life this morning by cutting his throat with a razor. Lake was given emergency treatment by Dr. W. J. Gardner, after which he was removed to the general hospital, where he died. His wife was prostrated and would give no information as to the cause of the deed. Friends say he was despondent because of lack of work.

THAW'S WIFE TO HELP HIM

THE FIGHT FOR FREEDOM BEGUN BY STANFORD WHITE'S SLAYER.

In Spite of Her Suit for Annulment of Their Marriage, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw Is Willing to Help Her Husband.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 4.—Harry K. Thaw's fight for liberty, which has been in progress almost every moment since he shot down Stanford White on the crowded Madison Square roof garden theater, nearly two years ago, was continued in the supreme court to-day. Twice tried for the murder, the second time acquitted only to be sent to the Matteawan state hospital for the criminal insane, Thaw now will endeavor to prove his sanity and his right to complete freedom.

The proceedings which began to-day were based upon a writ of habeas corpus taken out at the instance of the prisoner to procure his release from the asylum. The writ was issued by Justice Morschauer at White Plains on April 22, on application of James G. Graham, a Newburgh attorney. It was made returnable before Justice Morschauer in this city to-day.

HARRY SEEN HIM FOR TWO MONTHS.

An interesting insight into Thaw's matrimonial affairs, which have attracted much attention since his removal to the asylum, was contained in a statement given out by A. Russell Peabody, one of Thaw's counsel, before the opening of court to-day. Young Mrs. Thaw, who had such a prominent place in the two trials of her husband for murder and has begun suit for the annulment of her marriage to Thaw, has not seen her husband in more than two months. Mr. Peabody said, however, that Mrs. Thaw has offered herself as a witness in her husband's behalf should her testimony be necessary to obtain his freedom.

He did not know whether it would be necessary to call her to Poughkeepsie, he said, but if he believed it necessary as the case develops she will be summoned.

THIEF GOES THROUGH GLASS

CAUGHT IN A STORE, A NEGRO ROBBER DIDN'T WAIT TO OPEN IT.

Two Pinkerton Watchmen Chased the Fugitive Through Downtown Streets, but Didn't Catch Him—A Would-Be Officer Broke an Umbrella.

Passing through an alley back of the Golden Eagle clothing house at 719-721 Main street at 5:30 o'clock this morning, Adam A. Angel, a Pinkerton watchman, saw a negro inside the store, hanging by his hands from the transom.

"Come out of there or I'll shoot," the watchman shouted, drawing his revolver. With a cry of fright the negro dropped to the floor and ran toward the front of the store. He did not stop at the front door, but went right through the heavy glass with both feet and landed on his knees on the sidewalk.

THE NEGRO SHOWED A REVOLVER.

The crash and clatter of falling glass attracted the attention of A. C. Colburn of 1524 McGee street, who was at Eighth and Main streets. He saw the negro running toward him and met the emergency by striking the fugitive on the head with his umbrella, to the everlasting ruin of the umbrella. The negro showed a big, blue-barreled revolver and aimed it at Mr. Colburn, who fled into a protecting doorway.

DIDN'T HAVE TIME TO STEAL.

By this time John Andrews, another Pinkerton watchman, had arrived and he pursued the negro west on Eighth street to Central street where the negro disappeared into an alley between Central and May streets.

The entire affair took place in broad daylight while many persons were passing along Main street. The Pinkertons obtained a good description of the negro. He wore a light spring overcoat and a light crush hat. He appeared to be 28 years old. He did not have time to steal anything.

SLAIN CHILD'S PARENTS FREE.

Only the Pennsylvania Religious Fanatic Held on a Murder Charge.

EASTON, Pa., May 4.—Henry Smith and his wife, parents of Irene Smith, the little girl who was strangled to death by Robert Bachman, while in a religious frenzy, at Nazareth last Monday night, were released from the Northampton county prison today upon the order of Judge Scott, who held there was no evidence to connect them with the death of the child.

Mrs. Bachman also was released on the same grounds. The writs of habeas corpus granted on Saturday were returned in court today, and, after brief statements by counsel for the prisoners, the judge made his ruling. The Smiths and Mrs. Bachman were held in $3,000 bail, however, to appear as witnesses against Bachman when he is called for trial.

Bachman's brother, a wealthy cement manufacturer, is on his way East from California, and it is said he will put up a strong fight in defense of the prisoner, who, the district attorney declares, will be indicted and tried for the murder of the Smith child. It is reported that the defense will ask for a change of venue, on the ground that public sentiment in Northampton county is so strong against Bachman that he might not receive a fair and impartial trial.

DELAY IN FRED D. WARREN CASE.

The Government Not Ready for Appeal to Reason Trial.

FORT SCOTT, Kas., May 4.—On motion of the government in the federal court here today the trial of Fred D. Warren, editor of the Appeal to Reason, was continued until the next term of court, which will be in November. This is the third continuance requested by and granted the government. Mr. Warren is charged with sending "scurrilous, defamatory and threatening" matter through the mails. Clarence S. Darrow, who was the chief counsel in the defense of Haywood, Pettibone and Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners in Boise City, Idaho, appeared for Mr. Warren. The charge against Editor Warren is based upon the mailing of a printed reward of $1,000 for the kidnapping of ex-Governor Taylor of Kentucky.

HELD UP AND ROBBED OF $10.50.

Two Men Stopped James Bogard on West Twelfth Street Sunday Morning.

James Bogard of 1517 Bristol avenue reported to the police that he was held up and robbed of $10.50 by two men at 12:30 o'clock Sunday morning. The "hold up" took place where West Twelfth street crosses the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad tracks. He furnished a description of the men to the police.

The Death of Dr. J. F. Draper.

The will of Augustus L. Charles, who died April 28 at his home, 1510 Wyandotte street, was filed for probate this morning. To his widow, Mrs. Mary A. Charles, he left the homestead and $2,000. Nancy J. Charles, a daughter, received a house at 1312 Michigan avenue, $2,000 in life insurance and $1,000 in money. A son, Dr. A. L. Charles, jr., who lives in Lancaster, Kas., received $2,000, as also did Joseph D. Charles, another son. Minnie Daniels, stepdaughter, and Augustus Lester Charles, a grandson, received $200.

CORN, WHEAT AND COTTON UP

Advancing Prices in the Leading Speculative Markets.

CHICAGO, May 4.—Corn for May delivery sold above 70 cents a bushel on the board of trade today, making the highest price in twenty-five years, with two or three exceptions. The high prices are due in part to a corner in the market. J. A. Patten holds most of the May contracts and he owns also most of the corn in store, having taken and paid for about 4 million bushels delivered to him on May contracts. But a reason for high prices is to be found in the small amounts of corn that farmers are selling, and the high prices that prevail throughout the country.

The wheat market was very strong this morning, the May price advancing one cent to $1.04½, and July 1½ cents to 90½ cents. The statement of the visible supply of wheat showed the phenomenally large decrease of 5½ million bushels, owing chiefly to shipments from Canadian points on the lakes for export. Another statistical item that helped the advance was the world's shipments last week, amounting to only 6¼ million bushels, or less than half those for the corresponding week in 1907. The deficiency was chiefly in the shipments from Russian and Danubian ports, which were only 816,000 bushels, compared with 5½ million bushels a year ago.

New York, May 4.—Following a prolonged period of depression there was a sharp advance in the price of cotton futures on the New York cotton exchange today. The trading was active and excited, speculators for an advance buying heavily because of the strength of the Liverpool market, a heavy demand for spot cotton in Liverpool and New York and reports of unfavorable weather indications. Speculators for a decline were forced to buy to protect their contracts to deliver cotton and during the morning the May price advanced to $8.83 and July to $8.89, which are 37 to 41 cents per 100 pounds above the closing figures of Saturday and 69 to 80 cents above the low level of last week.

MANY PAY TELEPHONES ROBBED

Joseph Pope, Suspected of Complicity, Held for Examination.

A systematic robbery of pay telephone boxes has been going on in Kansas City for six weeks, and the Missouri and Kansas Telephone company has suffered. Two men are believed to have done most of the work. Their method has been to enter a store, and while one engaged the clerk or proprietor in conversation the other cut away the money box while pretending to use the telephone. Fifteen such cases were reported to the police in April. Last Friday two men worked the game in Huckle's drug store at Fifteenth street and Grand avenue. Abraham Byer, the clerk, gave a description of them to the police, and this morning Joseph Pope of Nineteenth street and Highland avenue was arrested by Patrolman Joyce. He denied all knowledge of the robberies, but Justice Remley held him for a preliminary examination.

STOLE BECAUSE HE WAS HUNGRY

So Judge Kyle Sent Earl Scott to the City's Boarding House.

C. N. Boley of the Boley Clothing company and Herman Schmelzer of the Schmelzer Arms company were in police court this morning to prosecute Earl Scott, a negro.

"He stole a baseball glove from my store," Mr. Schmelzer said. "And a pair of trousers from mine," chimed in Mr. Boley. "I was hungry," Scott explained. "Then I'll send you where there is plenty to eat," Judge Kyle said. "That's the workhouse. Fifteen dollars."

Hercules had just finished cleaning out the Augean stables.

"I ought to be elected next spring on a pure milk issue," he said.

But the dairymen told the people pure milk wasn't good for them and Hercules was snowed under at the polls.

BRIEF BITS OF CITY NEWS.

The Glee club of Baker university will give a concert in the Washington Avenue M. E. church, Kansas City, Kas., to-morrow night.

The Baraca union meeting at the First Christian church, Eleventh and Locust streets, to-night, will be addressed by Marshall Hudson of Syracuse, N. Y.

J. W. Forsyth, 49 years old, died this morning at his home, 217 Maple street, in Argentine. He had lived there ten years. He leaves a wife and three children.

John M. Lerche, proprietor of "The Toggery," on the west side of the public square, in Independence, reported to the police that burglars robbed his store last night of hats and clothing.

Albert H. Helder of Manhattan, a graduate of the Kansas State Agriculture college, who has made a study of practical parking and road building, to-day succeeded H. F. McPherson as clerk of the Kansas City, Kas., park board.

Dr. N. R. Holcomb of Oak Grove, who represented the First or country district of Jackson county in the last general assembly, said this morning in Independence that he would either be a candidate for re-election or representative or as state senator.

A DIVISION IN NEW JERSEY

PART OF THE DELEGATION WILL BE FOR SECRETARY TAFT.

Governor Fort, a Strong Supporter of the Ohio Man, One of the Candidates for Delegate-at-Large.

TRENTON, N. J., May 4.—The state convention of the New Jersey Republicans for the selection of delegates to the national convention will be held in this city to-morrow. The convention will be characterized by two features. One is that there are six candidates for the four places, as delegates-at-large, and the other is that an effort will be made by the supporters of Secretary Taft to have the convention adopt resolutions which, while not pledging the delegation to him, will in a qualified way advocate his nomination.

The six men who want to go as delegates-at-large are Governor Fort, ex-Governor Murphy, ex-Governor Griggs, Senator Keen, Senator Briggs and State Assessor David Baird, the Republican leader of South Jersey. The indications are that the delegates-at-large will be Governor Fort, Senator Keen, Senator Briggs and Mr. Baird. Governor Fort is the only one of the quartet who is an avowed Taft man. The district delegates, excepting those from the Seventh and Eighth congressional districts, will be chosen to-morrow. The Seventh and Eighth districts delegates have already been chosen and three of the four are for Secretary Taft.

John F. Dryden, ex-United States senator, will be the chairman of to-morrow's convention. He is an active Taft supporter.

It is uncertain whether the convention will adopt a qualified resolution in favor of Secretary Taft, but present indications point to at least one-third, if not one-half, of the twenty-four delegates from New Jersey favoring him. One thing is practically certain and that is that no unit rule will be adopted, so that Secretary Taft will get the benefit of all the votes in the New Jersey delegation that favor his nomination.

CITY DEPOSITS ARE AWARDED.

The Commerce, Union and Republic to Handle Municipal Cash.

The annual selection of the city's depositories was made to-day by the mayor, city counselor and city comptroller, as prescribed by the charter. The law requires three banks to be selected each to have approximately a third of the city's funds, those bidding the highest rate of interest on daily balances to be selected—with proper qualifications. The three successful banks and their bids were:

The National Bank of Commerce, 2.07 per cent.
The National Bank of the Republic, 2.05 per cent.
The Union National Bank, 2.04 per cent.

Two other bids were received—2 per cent from the First National bank and 1½ per cent from the Pioneer Trust company.

The three banks chosen are the same that held the city's funds in the last year. The high bid last year was 2.09 per cent. The city's average daily balance in each bank varies from $600,000 to 1 million dollars. Each bank is required to give a security bond for 2½ million dollars.

SOLD BEER IN A ROOMING HOUSE

For This Mrs. Connors Was Fined $600 and Sent to Jail for Seven Months.

Mrs. Mollie Connors, who conducts a rooming house at 219 Shawnee avenue, Armourdale, was fined $600 and sentenced to seven months in jail by Judge Sims in the Kansas City, Kas., police court this morning. Mrs. Connors's place was raided by the police last Friday. The police learned from Mrs. Lilly Callahan, who attempted to commit suicide Friday, that Mrs. Connors was selling liquor. Mrs. Callahan told the police that her husband spent most of his time and money in Mrs. Connors's place.

James Hugin of 934 St. Paul street, Kansas City, Kas., was in police court this morning, charged with selling liquor and maintaining a nuisance. He admitted that he bought several cases of beer and sold them to a neighbor. On the charge of selling liquor he was fined $100 and sentenced to thirty days in jail, and for maintaining a nuisance he was fined $500 and sentenced to six months in jail.

ANTI-COMBINE SUITS DELAYED.

Hearing of Action Against Railroads in Supreme Court To-Morrow.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 4.—The suit brought by Herbert S. Hadley, attorney general, against the Missouri Pacific, Iron Mountain and Wabash railroads, the Pacific Express company and others, for alleged joint stock ownership, will be argued before the supreme court en banc to-morrow. The case was on today's docket, but was passed until to-morrow to allow the attorneys to perfect the pleadings.

Mr. Hadley, John Kennish and Fred Lehman of St. Louis will argue the case for the state. Martin L. Clardy and J. L. Minnis of St. Louis, general counselors for the Missouri Pacific and Wabash railroads respectively, and Frank Hagerman of Kansas City will present the case for the companies. All the attorneys are here to-day.

DIED SEEKING A JOB.

The End Came to a Negro in the Office of The Star.

A negro, about 27 years old, went to the want ad. counter in the business office of The Star this morning and handed an advertisement to one of the clerks. It read:

SITUATION WANTED BY A RELIABLE colored man as porter or stable man. Telephone Main 2978X.

"I can't make out one of these words," the clerk said. "What's this?"

The negro did not answer. He lurched to one side, groaned, and suddenly fell backward. When persons close to him hurried to lift him, he was dead.

His name was given as John Statum. For two months he had been living at 918 Campbell street. He had no relatives in the city. The coroner said that the cause of the death probably was heart disease.

COMPLAINS OF A SWITCH CHARGE

The Wabash, However, Has Not Placed Tariffs and May Be Placed.

The complaint of the Kansas City Transportation bureau against the Wabash railroad's new switching charge of one and one-half cents for 100 pounds with a carload minimum of 40,000 pounds was placed before the state railroad and warehouse commissioners this morning by George Bell, assistant commissioner of the bureau. The board found, however, that the Wabash railroad had not filed the tariff amendment with the board. It has been ordered to do so, on penalty of a fine. The board held its regular monthly session this morning in the price inspector's office in the Board of Trade building.

NOT TO PROSECUTE REGICID

So Many Persons Involved That Portuguese Fears the Outcome.

LISBON, May 4.—The government has completed its investigation of the plot to assassinate King Carlos and his son last fall. So many widely known persons are either suspected or implicated that it has been decided not to bring any prosecution. King Manuel, when he takes his oath of office, will grant a general amnesty. This, however, will cover offenses up to January 30, 1914, assassinations occurred February 1.

Although King Manuel has expressed his willingness to pay to the treasury money advanced to the late King Carlos, the cabinet, on account of the present condition of the finances of the royal household, has decided to ask parliament to cancel these debts.

Dr. Jose de Alpoim, chief of the Portuguese Dissidents, who has been a thorn in the side of the monarchy, is believed to have made a deal with the government by which one of his followers will enter the cabinet at the earliest opportunity.

The civil governor of Lisbon has issued orders that all arms in the possession of private persons be surrendered immediately. After May 5 any person having arms in his possession without permission will be severely punished.

TO OMAHA WITH HIS REVOLVER

The Police Judge Tells J. C. Read to or Pay a $500 Fine.

John C. Read, who was arrested in the Hotel Baltimore Saturday night, was $500 in police court this morning on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He was given a stay of execution on condition that he return at once to Omaha, where he is manager of the Heretideen Manufacturing company.

Read was arrested Saturday night at the request of his father-in-law, C. M. Huntington, also of Omaha. Huntington said that Read had been separated from his wife about a year. He said that Read had gone to the house where Mrs. Read was staying at 3118 Washington street and threatened her with a revolver. Huntington and Read left Saturday night for Omaha.

THIEF GOES THROUGH GLASS

CAUGHT IN A STORE, A NEGRO ROBBER DIDN'T WAIT TO OPEN IT.

Two Pinkerton Watchmen Chased the Fugitive Through Downtown Streets, but Didn't Catch Him—A Would-Be Officer Broke an Umbrella.

Passing through an alley back of the Golden Eagle clothing house at 719-721 Main street at 5:30 o'clock this morning, Adam A. Angel, a Pinkerton watchman, saw a negro inside the store, hanging by his hands from the transom.

"Come out of there or I'll shoot," the watchman shouted, drawing his revolver. With a cry of fright the negro dropped to the floor and ran toward the front of the store. He did not stop at the front door, but went right through the heavy glass with both feet and landed on his knees on the sidewalk.

THE NEGRO SHOWED A REVOLVER. The crash and clatter of falling glass attracted the attention of A. C. Colburn of 1524 McGee street, who was at Eighth and Main streets. He saw the negro running toward him and met the emergency by striking the fugitive on the head with his umbrella, to the everlasting ruin of the umbrella. The negro showed a big, blue-barreled revolver and aimed it at Mr. Colburn, who fled into a protecting doorway.

DIDN'T HAVE TIME TO STEAL.

By this time John Andrews, another Pinkerton watchman, had arrived and he pursued the negro west on Eighth street to Central street where the negro disappeared into an alley between Central and May streets.

The entire affair took place in broad daylight while many persons were passing along Main street. The Pinkertons obtained a good description of the negro. He wore a light spring overcoat and a light crush hat. He appeared to be 28 years old. He did not have time to steal anything.

SLAIN CHILD'S PARENTS FREE.

Only the Pennsylvania Religious Fanatic Held on a Murder Charge.

EASTON, Pa., May 4.—Henry Smith and his wife, parents of Irene Smith, a little girl who was strangled to death by Robert Bachman, while in a religious frenzy, at Nazareth last Monday night, were released from the Northampton county prison today upon the order of Judge Scott, who held there was no evidence to connect them with the death of the child.

Mrs. Bachman also was released on the same grounds. The writs of habeas corpus granted on Saturday were returned in court today, and, after brief statements by counsel for the prisoners, the judge made his ruling. The Smiths and Mrs. Bachman were held in $3,000 bail, however, to appear as witnesses against Bachman when he is called for trial.

Bachman's brother, a wealthy cement manufacturer, is now in the way East from California, and it is said he will put up a strong fight in defense of the prisoner, who, the district attorney declares, will be indicted and tried for the murder of the Smith child. It is reported that the defense will ask for a change of venue, on the ground that public sentiment in Northampton county is so strong against Bachman that he might not receive a fair and impartial trial.

DELAY IN FRED D. WARREN CASE.

The Government Not Ready for Appeal to Reason Trial.

FORT SCOTT, Kas., May 4.—On motion of the government in the federal court here today the trial of Fred D. Warren, editor of the Appeal to Reason, was continued until the next term of court, which will be in November. This is the third continuance requested by and granted the government. Mr. Warren is charged with sending "scurrilous, defamatory and threatening" matter through the mails. Clarence S. Darrow, who was the chief counsel in the defense of Haywood, Pettibone and Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners in Boise City, Idaho, appeared for Mr. Warren. The charge against Editor Warren is based upon the mailing of a printed reward of $1,000 for the kidnapping of ex-Governor Taylor of Kentucky.

Mrs. Mollie Connors, who conducts a rooming house at 219 Shawnee avenue, Armourdale, was fined $600 and sentenced to seven months in jail by Judge Sims in the Kansas City, Kas., police court this morning. Mrs. Connors's place was raided by the police last Friday. The police learned from Mrs. Lilly Callahan, who attempted to commit suicide Friday, that Mrs. Connors was selling liquor. Mrs. Callahan told the police that her husband spent most of his time and money in Mrs. Connors's place. James Hugin of 934 St. Paul street, Kansas City, Kas., was in police court this morning, charged with selling liquor and maintaining a nuisance. He admitted that he bought several cases of beer and sold them to a neighbor. On the charge of selling liquor he was fined $100 and sentenced to thirty days in jail, and for maintaining a nuisance he was fined $500 and sentenced to six months in jail.

ANTI-COMBINE SUITS DELAYED.

Hearing of Action Against Railroads in Supreme Court To-Morrow.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 4.—The suit brought by Herbert S. Hadley, attorney general, against the Missouri Pacific, Iron Mountain and Wabash railroads, the Pacific Express company and others, for alleged joint stock ownership, will be argued before the supreme court en banc to-morrow. The case was on today's docket, but was passed until to-morrow to allow the attorneys to perfect the pleadings.

Mr. Hadley, John Kennish and Fred Lehman of St. Louis will argue the case for the state. Martin L. Clardy and J. L. Minnis of St. Louis, general counselors for the Missouri Pacific and Wabash railroads respectively, and Frank Hagerman of Kansas City will present the case for the companies. All the attorneys are here today.

DIED SEEKING A JOB.

The End Came to a Negro in the Office of The Star.

A negro, about 27 years old, went to the want ad counter in the business office of The Star this morning and handed an advertisement to one of the clerks. It read:

SITUATION WANTED BY A RELIABLE colored man as porter or stable man. Telephone Main 9978X.

"I can't make out one of these words," the clerk said. "What's this?" The negro did not answer. He lurched to one side, groaned, and suddenly fell backward. When persons close to him hurried to lift him, he was dead.

His name was given as John Statum. For two months he had been living at 918 Campbell street. He had no relatives in the city. The coroner said that the cause of the death probably was heart disease.

COMPLAINS OF A SWITCH CHARGE

The Wabash, However, Has Not Filed a Tariff and May Be Fined.

The complaint of the Kansas City Transportation bureau against the Wabash railroad's new switching charge of one and one-half cents for 100 pounds with a carload minimum of 40,000 pounds was placed before the state railroad and warehouse commissioners this morning by George Bell, assistant commissioner of the bureau. The board found, however, that the Wabash railroad had not filed the tariff amendment with the board. It has been ordered to do so, on penalty of a fine. The board held its regular monthly session this morning in the grain inspector's office in the Board of Trade building.

NOT TO PROSECUTE REGICIDES

So Many Persons Involved That Portugal Fears the Outcome.

LISBON, May 4.—The government has completed its investigation of the plot to assassinate King Carlos and his son last fall. So many widely known persons are either suspected or imprisoned that it has been decided not to bring any prosecution. King Manuel, when he takes his oath of office, will grant a general amnesty. This, however, will only cover offenses up to January 30; the assassinations occurred February 1.

Although King Manuel has expressed his willingness to pay to the treasury money advanced to the late King Carlos, the cabinet, on account of the present condition of the finances of the royal household, has decided to ask parliament to cancel these debts.

Dr. Jose de Alpoim, chief of the Progressive Dissidents, who has been a thorn in the side of the monarchy, is believed to have made a deal with the government by which one of his followers will enter the cabinet at the earliest opportunity.

The civil governor of Lisbon has issued orders that all arms in the possession of private persons be surrendered immediately. After May 5 any person having arms in his possession without permission will be severely punished.

TO OMAHA WITH HIS REVOLVER.

The Police Judge Tells J. C. Read to Go or Pay a $500 Fine.

John C. Read, who was arrested in the Hotel Baltimore Saturday night, was fined $500 in police court this morning on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He was given a stay of execution on condition that he return at once to Omaha, where he is manager of the Herendene Manufacturing company.

Read was arrested Saturday night at the request of his father-in-law, C. M. Huntington, also of Omaha. Huntington said that Read had been separated from his wife about a year. He said that Read had gone to the house where Mrs. Read was staying at 3118 Washington street and threatened her with a revolver. Huntington and Mrs. Read left Saturday night for Omaha.

VESTA VICTORIA IS FOURTH

IRENE FRANKLIN WINS THE MOST POPULAR SINGER CONTEST.

Alice Lloyd and Eva Tanguay Second and Third in a New York Competition—Topics of the Metropolis.

New York, May 4.—The popularity contest for women vaudeville singers inaugurated a week ago by Percy Williams ended last night and was won by Irene Franklin. The voting was done by the patrons of the three Williams houses, the Colonial, the Alhambra and the Orpheum in Brooklyn, a ballot with the name of the singers going with each ticket. Mr. Williams wished to know before he leaves for England Thursday to engage singers, whether his patrons like American or English singers better.

Miss Franklin and America had 4,400 votes more than Alice Lloyd and England, and 5,273 votes more than Vesta Victoria. Her total vote was 7,414, while Eva Tanguay was next highest with 6,083. Up to Saturday afternoon Miss Tanguay had a big lead, but the Saturday vote sent Miss Franklin away ahead, and she retained her lead last night. Miss Tanguay's vote was 6,083. Alice Lloyd and Vesta Victoria came third and fourth, while fifth place went to Gertrude Hoffman with 1,768 votes, and Marie Dressler was last with 1,703.

SIEGFRIED WAGNER TO KANSAS CITY. It is reported that negotiations have been begun with Siegfried Wagner for an American tour next season. The scheme comprises a tour of the principal cities of the East and then a trip into the West as far as Kansas City. Mr. Wagner, son of the illustrious Richard Wagner, is to appear as conductor of the Berlin Philharmonic orchestra, and the programme will contain excerpts from his operas. If these plans are realized the tour will end with a musical festival in Madison Square garden.

TO SUCCEED DR. DIX. Dr. William T. Manning probably will be elected to succeed the late Dr. Morgan Dix as rector of Trinity by the vestry to-night.

By ancient tradition the mantle of the rector falls upon his assistant. In the manner Dr. Dix succeeded Dr. Berrian. It was Dr. Manning's appointment to the post of assistant rector in 1904, which had not been filled for forty years, that induced him to refuse the bishopric of Harrisburg.

Dr. Manning has been marked for the post by three great qualifications, a capacity for organization, a high standard of pulpit oratory and a strong and winning personality.

TO SETTLE FAMILY ROWS.

Prompted by the success of the "court of broken hearts," so-called, which it has been conducting for some time, the Educational alliance, which works on the lower East Side of the city, has suggested, through its legal aid department, the establishment by the municipality of a "domestic relations court." In such a court, the alliance believes, more time could be given to the hearing of family troubles than in the present courts, and it suggests that through the proposed tribunal's operations much suffering and much misunderstanding might be averted.

The alliance, through its present informal and strictly unofficial court, manages to straighten out scores of little family differences, preventing in many cases desertions and divorce. In the magistrates' courts, where such cases are now heard, there is no time to listen to apparently petty troubles. A husband who has deserted his wife is held in jail or sent to jail. His family loses his support and frequently becomes destitute.

IT CURES THE STAGE STRUCK.

The "educational theater" or the children's theater, as it is popularly known, in which Mark Twain has taken so much interest, is the best cure for the "stage struck," according to Miss A. Minnie Hertz, its director and originator.

"Many have come to us 'stage struck' you might call it," she said, "only following out a God-given impulse within them which could be splendidly used for education and character development if properly directed. We have tried to train them aright and have satisfied their longings for the enactment of characters outside of themselves, and not one of the 530 who have taken part in our plans has gone to the professional stage."

"The educational theater is soon to become a separate organization from the Educational alliance, with a new board of directors, and we are to have teachers to aid the youthful actors in their work."

PLOT A REVOLT IN INDIA?

Europeans in Calcutta and elsewhere were intended victims.

CALCUTTA, May 4.—The police are investigating the native plot, revealed yesterday, to murder Europeans by means of bombs, and, the more thoroughly they go into the matter the more widespread does it appear.

The authorities believe they are facing an attempt at revolution. A number of widely known Bengalese are implicated, and sensational arrests are expected to follow.

AT THE THEATERS THIS WEEK.

Miss Vesta Victoria, the Expensive Star, is at the Orpheum.

Miss Vesta Victoria at the Orpheum this week demonstrates impressively the value of magnanimity in vaudeville. For singing about four songs twice daily she is paid $2,500 a week, in spite of the fact that she has a very ordinary voice, and sings with a decided nasal twang. When you see her perhaps you will decide in your own mind that she is certainly not worth the high salary paid her, but that will be because you expect too much. As surely, though, she has a fetching way of becoming acquainted with her audience. You'll find yourself smiling when she smiles, laughing when she laughs, and when she asks you to join her in a chorus the chances are you'll do that, too, involuntarily. With every song Miss Victoria has a different costume, each a little more eccentric than former ones. She doesn't attempt to appear beautiful or graceful; her one aim is to amuse. After all there isn't much of any time to "Poor John," "Waiting at the Church," or any of the other songs she sings, but there is a whole lot of eloquence in the way she sings them and then there is that still more important quality—magnetism.

Of the other numbers on the bill the most interesting is DeWitt, Burns and Torrance. It is a pantomime act called "The Awakening of Toys." Brown and Navarro, negroes, change their costumes often and entertain with songs indifferently sung. George W. Beane, actor and author, has a pleasing sketch called "A Woman's Way." Charles Marvelle is a contortionist, who performs the usual feats. James MacDinola is a monologist and Mr. and Mrs. Colby have an amusing act called "Kimo." The kinodrome completes the bill.

Auditorium—"More Than Queen."

"More Than Queen," at the Auditorium theater this week is an unusually impressive play given in five elaborately staged acts by a large company. It is a play of incidents in the life of Napoleon Bonaparte and Empress Josephine, which was a favorite of Julia Arthur and Blanche Walsh. William Humphrey, who played the role of Napoleon for both of these actresses, has the part this week. He plays it in a way that shows much study and insight. Eva Lang, as Josephine, is seen at her best. She has the requisite dignity, grace and beauty and does not overdo the tendency some of the lines offer for sentimentality. A stirring description of the battle of Austerlitz is given by Frank Beamish in the part of Rostau. J. Francis Kirk makes the best of an opportunity for some skillful work in the part of the diplomatic Talleyrand. The heroics of Jack Chagnon as Lucien Bonaparte win him his usual share of applause. The tableau of the coronation in the third act is a striking scene which yesterday drew half a dozen encores. The cast includes twenty-seven names.

Century—"Burlesque."

"The Twin Sisters" and "Amateur Night on the Bowery," two amusing farces, is the offering of "The Tiger Lilies," at the Century this week. George Murphy, an interesting comedian, heads the bill. Dell Netra introduces several pleasing dancing specialties. May McLain gives a humorous imitation of Anna Held. The chorus is well drilled and sings well.

The regular chorus contest has been arranged for Thursday night.

Gillies—"Tempest and Sunshine."

A dramatization of Mary J. Holmes' novel, "Tempest and Sunshine," is this week's bill at the Gillies. Marie De Beau and Ruth Raynor in the chief woman roles are especially good. Old time Southern melodies are specialties. The settings and costumes are elaborate.

Grand—"The Wheel of Love."

"The Wheel of Love" with Paul Gilmore as the star, is the attraction at the Grand. The first performance will be given to-night.

Shubert—"What Happened to Jones."

At the Shubert theater to-night the opening performance of the comedy, "What Happened to Jones," will be given.

MEANS AID FOR ALL THE JEWS.

A Proposition to Limit British Colonial Trust to Palestine Defeated.

LONDON, May 4.—A petition of the Jewish Colonial trust, asking power from the court to restrict its operations to Palestine, was dismissed this morning by the court of chancery. The trust has a capital of 10 million dollars, which has been subscribed with the object of promoting the welfare of the Jewish race in all parts of the world.

The managers of the trust, who were supported by a considerable section of the stockholders, contended that the colonization of Palestine and neighboring territory was the "great ideal of Zionism, and the only object worth entertaining." Israel Zangwill and other dissenters bitterly opposed the scheme of limitation. "It would mean," Mr. Zangwill declared to the court, "siding down idly before the closed gates of Zion."

The promised land, he declared, was not at present attainable and the proposed restrictions would prevent the trust from ameliorating the distress of persecuted Jews in many parts of the world.

Justice Eve, in dismissing the petition, took Mr. Zangwill's view. He said that if he sanctioned the suggested alteration he would be doing little to improve the condition of an oppressed and great people outside of Palestine.

In Kansas City, Kan., an Ordinance May Be Passed Over the Mayor's Veto—The New Plan Places the Power With the People.

"The commission form of government deprives the mayor of the veto power."

This is one of the arguments being used against the adoption of the new plan in Kansas City, Kas.

"Yes, but it places it with the people," is the answer the friends of the plan give.

Under the present law a franchise ordinance may be passed over the mayor's veto. Under the government by commission the veto of the people is final.

In order to safeguard the granting of franchises under the commission form of government, such ordinances must be read at three regular meetings and then be published once each week for three weeks.

After its passage sixty days must elapse before such an ordinance becomes effective. Then the people may exercise their power of veto.

AN EFFECTIVE FEATURE OF GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION.

In Kansas City, Kan., an Ordinance May Be Passed Over the Mayor's Veto—The New Plan Places the Power With the People.

"The commission form of government deprives the mayor of the veto power."

This is one of the arguments being used against the adoption of the new plan in Kansas City, Kas.

"Yes, but it places it with the people," is the answer the friends of the plan give.

Under the present law a franchise ordinance may be passed over the mayor's veto. Under the government by commission the veto of the people is final.

In order to safeguard the granting of franchises under the commission form of government, such ordinances must be read at three regular meetings and then be published once each week for three weeks.

After its passage sixty days must elapse before such an ordinance becomes effective. Then the people may exercise their power of veto.

The following provision relating to the granting of franchises is followed under the commission form of government:

If, pending the passage of any such ordinance or during the time intervening between its final passage and the expiration of the sixty days before such ordinance shall take effect, 10 per cent of the legal qualified voters of said city voting for mayor at the last preceding election, shall present a petition to the board of commissioners asking that such franchise ordinance be submitted for adoption by popular vote, then it shall be the duty of the mayor to issue a proclamation calling a special election for such purpose.

If the voters say "No" at the special election the franchise cannot become effective.

The advocates of the commission government are to hold several meetings this week. Their opponents are to organize to-night.

WHERE LINWOOD PLAZA IS.

The Park Board's Plans for the Block Between Brooklyn and Park.

Property owners in the Westport park district have been receiving notices to pay their assessments for Linwood plaza.

Many have been asking what and where Linwood plaza is. It consists of two small blocks of ground on the north and south sides of Linwood boulevard between Brooklyn and Park avenue. One tract extends 250 feet north and the other 250 feet south from the boulevard. The frontage on the boulevard is 269 feet on each side.

The treatment is intended to be something like the plaza on Independence boulevard.

On Linwood boulevard the low grade of the plaza has suggested to the park officials a sunken garden effect. The property owners who petitioned for it said that the ground was available only for a plaza. No plans have been made up to this time.

The cost of the ground is $48,000. In the territory from Thirty-first to Thirty-third streets and from Wabash avenue to Euclid avenue special benefits are assessed, varying from fifty cents to $3 a front foot. That is immediately surrounding the plaza.

The rest of the cost is assessed against the Westport park district, on the land value only, at the rate of sixty cents on each $100 valuation. This does not tax the improvements. The property owners have until June 19 to pay the assessments in full without interest. If they are not paid up then payments are to be made on installments with 7 per cent interest. The first installment, if property owners adopt that plan, is not payable until May, 1909.

POLICE WATCH GERMAN PRINCE.

Walter Philip Zu Eulenburg is in Guard surrounded his Castle.

BERLIN, May 4.—Members of the criminal police force, according to the Tagblatt have been picked around the castle at Liebenberg of Prince Philip Zu Eulenburg, as a precaution against the prince's leaving the country during the preliminary investigation by the crown prosecutor. Of the allegation that the prince gave false testimony during the recent Harden trial in Berlin, when charges of a serious nature were brought against several widely known German officials.

That the prosecutor took up the investigation at all is being referred to by the newspapers as a serious matter.

Prince Zu Eulenburg, who lives in an almost feudal style, is ill of neuritis. Physicians delegated by the government to examine him affirm that he is unable to travel, yet a dozen plain clothes officers watch the exits of the castle grounds day and night.

Prince Zu Eulenburg received a judicial commission during his recent visit to his bedside, with the utmost courtesy. He offered the commission the fullest facilities for its investigation and replied to its questions clearly and without hesitation.

COINER'S LIFE A HARD ONE

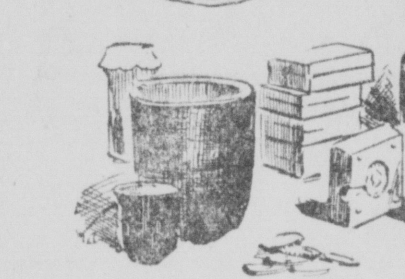

MAKING MONEY IS EASY, BUT IT'S HARD TO PASS IT.

The Counterfeiter Lives in Constant Fear of the Law and the Profit Is Small—Elliot and Tillie Bullene Before the Grand Jury.

"Work, and hard work at that, is better any day than counterfeiting. A person can make more money by real work than by manufacturing bogus money."

A woman, poorly dressed, her face showing anxiety and her hands twitching nervously, was speaking as she sat in the office of Captain Walter Whitsett at police headquarters this morning.

Before her was an assortment of molds, bottles, glass and tin. A man who sat near her appeared to be nervous, too, as he answered the captain's questions. They were George Elliot and Tillie Bullene, the man and woman who were arrested in their room at 511 Locust street Saturday night on a charge of counterfeiting. They talked freely of their work in manufacturing bogus money. Elliot said he had learned counterfeiting about seventeen years ago in Colorado, but that he had never made any coins until a few months ago, when he was thrown out of employment.

GEORGE ELLIOT AND TILLIE BULLENE, UNDER ARREST FOR COUNTERFEITING. THE MOLDS, BOTTLES AND OTHER ARTICLES WERE USED IN MANUFACTURING THEIR MONEY.

"I wasn't able to find work anywhere and I didn't know what else to do," Elliot said. "The material and everything cost me about $20, but I thought that would soon be made up by the profits. Of course we made some money, but it kept us nervous all the time."

"It's a hard game, all the way through," Captain Whitsett supplemented.

HARDER THAN HONEST WORK. "Hard" the woman echoed. "It's harder than any honest work ever was. Every time one of those dollars was changed, it was worse than a hard day's work. It was not every time that a coin passed inspection. Many times the persons turned the coins back to me and every time that was done I was sure the end had come. It was a life of constant fear; every noise on the stairs, every knock at the door sent my heart into my throat—I was sure that the officers had come at last."

"We didn't make much money," Elliot said. "Not more than enough for living expenses. Of course, I could have made $100 a day, but it wasn't the question of making the money, it was the question of passing it. Right there was where the trouble came in."

The man and woman said the money had been passed at small grocery and drug stores. They did not attempt to pass any of the money in large stores.

MAYBE HE'LL WRITE A BOOK IN PRISON.

Elliot and the woman were taken before the federal grand jury this morning by Joseph Enright and Sergeant Peter McGrover, the arresting officers. An indictment is expected this afternoon. Elliot was fined $25 in police court about a year ago on a charge of vagrancy. At that time he had been arrested by Michael Mullane, a patrolman, who said Elliot had broken several store windows. "Nothing to that," Elliot told the judge. "Course I admit I was on the street at 2 o'clock in the morning, but I was out getting atmosphere for a story. It's the story of a man's life and when it's written it's going to be the greatest thing ever."

ARGUE SALARY LIMIT SUITS.

Mandamus Suit of Insurance Concerns Heard at Jefferson City.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 4.—The mandamus suit brought by the Equitable, Metropolitan and Prudential Life Insurance companies against W. D. Vandiver, superintendent of the Missouri insurance department, to test the validity of the $50,000 annual salary law, was argued before the supreme court on Monday.

Herbert S. Hadley, attorney general, and John Kennish, assistant attorney general, presented arguments for the state in support of the law, while Frank Hagerman of Kansas City and Judge O. M. Spencer represented the insurance companies in their attack on the statute.

This law was passed by the last legislature and prohibits the insurance commissioner from licensing any insurance company to do business in Missouri that pays any officer more than $50,000 annual salary.

These three companies were refused a renewal of their license by Mr. Vandiver March 1, when their old licenses expired. They brought this mandamus suit to test the law and, by an agreement, they were permitted to continue business in the state pending a decision by the supreme court.

Ruddy Plant Closed for Repairs.

The old Ruddy packing plant at Adams street and Shawnee avenue, Armourdale, now a branch of the National Packing company, has been temporarily shut down for repairs. When the men were paid off they were told that they would be given employment in repairing the plant. The shut down is only temporary and will probably last about sixty days," F. O. Cunningham, general manager of the plant, said. "All of the machinery needs overhauling and the entire plant will be cleaned up."

IN BUYING DRUG STORE BOOZE.

The Court of Appeals Defines What Constitutes Evidence.

In a decision given this morning, the Kansas City court of appeals held that the evidence is sufficient to establish the proof that a druggist sold whisky in violation of the law. Judge James Ellison wrote the opinion which was concurred in by Judge E. J. Broadbent and Judge J. M. Johnson. Thomas Scanlon, a druggist, was convicted in the Caldwell county circuit court at Breckinridge, Mo., of selling liquor in less quantities than four gallons. Judge Ellison says in the opinion:

"The sole question is whether there was evidence sufficient to sustain a finding of a sale. The man to whom the sale was said to have been made testified that he went into the drug store to get a drink of water; that he walked by the druggist and into the rear of the room and went behind the prescription case, where a door opened into a back room. He saw a bottle of whisky and a small glass sitting on a barrel or shelf; that he then concluded he would take a drink of liquor and poured out the glass full, drank it and came out, passed through the store the way he went in and in passing the druggist, who was

RUNS AWAY FROM MILLIONS

AN HEIR TO A BIG ESTATE FOUND AND LOST AGAIN.

The Son of Francis Sherwood Kinney, Tobacco Millionaire, Quarreled With His Father Fifteen Years Ago and Has Never Returned Home.

LOS ANGELES, May 4.—Joel Kinney, son of the late Francis Sherwood Kinney of the Kinney Tobacco company, was found last week in Los Angeles, after being absent from home fifteen years. As soon as he was found he was lost again, and E. C. Rand of the New York district attorney's office has been compelled to return without the young man for whom he came and is out $500 he gave to get Kinney in his custody.

Young Kinney, according to Rand, quarreled with his father fifteen years ago and was sent on a trip around the world in a chartered sailing vessel, accompanied by detectives whose duty it was to see that he did not return to New York. They plied him with liquor while on the boat until he was almost a wreck and succeeded in keeping from the parental roof.

TRACED BY JEROME'S OFFICE.

No effort was made to find him until his father died two months ago, and then the other heirs to the 12 million dollar estate began the search. Through District Attorney Jerome's office he was traced to Los Angeles, and Rand was sent for him.

"I was approached by Los Angeles men," said Rand, "shortly after I arrived. They offered to bring young Kinney to me, but demanded a sum of money for their services. Detectives had failed, and after beating them down to $500 I decided to take their offer."

"They brought the young man, and I paid them the money. Then they wished to go to the bank, they said, and wished Kinney to go with them for a few minutes."

"I consented and have not laid eyes on Kinney since. I saw the man afterward, but they denied that they had anything to do with Kinney after they left the bank."

PAID IN A BANKER'S OFFICE.

J. A. Graves, president of the Farmers and Merchants National bank, corroborates Rand's statement. He says he knows the two men, whose names are kept secret for the present, and that the money was paid in his office at the bank.

Abbott Kinney, millionaire land owner and banker of Southern Cal., brother of the late tobacco magnate, corroborates the story.

Before Rand returned to New York last night he said he had satisfied himself after a short talk with Kinney that he was the missing heir. Kinney has two brothers and a sister who will share with him the estate of their father.

FAUST BRAND SPAGHETTI. People who know the difference between the different brands of Spaghetti invariably place Faust Brand as first in quality, nourishing properties, method of packing and price. It is in reality one of the most nourishing and healthful of all wheat foods. Spaghetti must be made from a peculiar variety of wheat called "Durum Wheat." Originally at its best on the banks of the Black sea, Durum Wheat now attains its most perfect development in American soil. From this American Durum Wheat Faust Spaghetti is made—the best in the world.

As a food for daily use, Faust Spaghetti stands without a peer, because it can be cooked in many different ways that never grow tiresome. Our free book of recipes, "Spaghetti and Some of Its Uses," gives twenty-three methods of preparing Faust Spaghetti—Send for it now and have a different dish for each meal.

How Women Can Keep Themselves Cheerful

Women live indoors; they exercise little. They need laxatives more than men. Their headaches, their dull days, their "blues" are generally due to the bowels.

Such conditions are wrong because they are unnecessary. One Cascaret—taken just when you need it—sets everything right.

One candy tablet ends completely most of our minor ills.

Cascarets are so gentle, so natural, you wrong yourself if you don't take them.

They are not like salts and pill cathartics, which injure the stomach and bowels.

They are not like any harsh physic, followed by griping and pain.

They're as harmless as food. You never know you have taken one, save for the good results.

One ten-cent box will change six unhappy days into six days of good cheer.

Aren't they worth it?

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure to get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet.

The box is marked like this:

Cascarets

THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

The vest-pocket box is 10 cents. The month-treatment box 50 cents. 12,000,000 boxes sold annually.

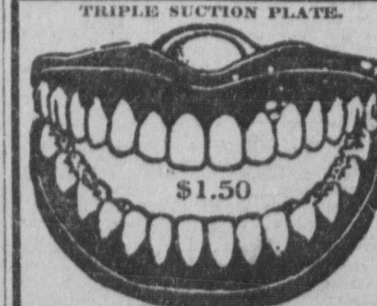

ASTHMA

Catarrh, Head Noises and Deafness Positively Cured FREE

If you begin immediately a special test rate for the cure of these diseases. Treatment, all professional services and consultation free. Not a penny to pay except for the medicines used in your case, and this will be reduced to a minimum. The most complicated, deep seated and chronic case will not exceed $5 for one whole month. No experimenting. No incurable cases accepted. If your disease is incurable you will be told so, free of charge.

Twenty Car Loads of Sturdy, New Furniture—Most of it Bought at Forced Sale at 60c on the Dollar

QUICK to the kernel of the story—the meat of this great news is what you want to read. The creditors' committee of the financially embarrassed Michigan Case Goods Company of Howard City, Michigan, forced a sale of their entire factory and salesroom stock of Furniture. Those stores who learned of the forced sale soon enough to take advantage of it bought such Furniture as would build reputation for any concern and at the lowest prices that have been noted by the Furniture trade in months and months.

Two big stores in the East practically divided the stock with us and through the advantages of our buying we offer you sturdy, well-built Furniture brand-new and perfect in every way

At About Half Its Real Worth

Added to this great lot are other recent Furniture purchases almost as large as this one, and to you, practically as important from a money-saving standpoint. The details are below—remember, this is May-time, moving-time for a great many of us, and so this great American Sale of Furniture is doubly significant. But a few of the items in this sale can be cited here—they are printed merely to show you the trend of the savings throughout the entire Furniture store.

The Furniture will be sold from samples—the stock is vastly too great to display more than one of each article or a sample of each style.

Out of Town Customers: Please send orders promptly before lots are sold.

We Do Not Advertise to Make Skirts for 75c or 98c. Why?

BECAUSE a Skirt cannot be manufactured for that price. This store prefers to deal with its patrons on a sane and honest basis. We charge the exact price which we pay to our Ladies' Tailor, giving the customers of this store the privilege of selecting any material from our stock, be it in regular stock at regular price or on the Bargain Counter at a marked down price. In many instances if we chose to do so we could make your skirts absolutely without charge by adding the cost of making onto the price of the material. (Some stores advertise to make skirts free.) For example, we have, as every merchant has at times, certain styles of dress fabrics that from one cause or another, do not sell readily. These goods must be sold at reduced prices. It is our policy to mark them down to show this reduction. We tell you plainly and truthfully that this line of Dress Goods sold for $1.00 or $1.25 per yard or whatever the price might have been. We have marked them to sell at 50c or 78c yard. You can select your skirt and participate in the saving. Is not this an honest way of dealing with you—right out in the open—every transaction above board, giving you the right to buy with your eyes open? Do you think this store or any other store would be giving you a square deal to take these same goods and instead of selling them at reduced prices (which our judgment prompts us to do), to hold them instead at the old regular selling price and apply the difference in the price you are charged, say $1.00 per yard, and the price you should pay, say 50c per yard, onto the price paid for the making of your skirt? Is it not misleading to think you are only paying 75c or nothing for the making of a skirt when you surely know that skirt cost our merchant from $2.00 to $3.00 to make? Would you not prefer to know exactly what you pay for your material? How much the tailor charges for the making and that you pay only for the yardage that goes into your skirt?

We propose to give you the benefit of all price reductions in a straight, legitimate way, making your Skirt from these materials or from our regular stock, and charging you only marked price for the exact yardage that goes into your Skirt and the tailor's actual charges for the making.

We now have a saleswoman in our Dress Goods department who is an experienced Skirt fitter. She can talk Skirt to you any hour of the day; take your measure and give you a fitting without delay. We absolutely guarantee satisfaction in our made-to-order Skirts. Give us a trial.

May Day!

A wide world welcomes this happy month of green foliage, honey bees and song birds.

It's the month of waving wheat fields, of tired plow boys, of the delicious joys of outdoor picnics and big rich Missouri and Kansas strawberries.

At the store the merchandise of May, gathered from the wide world over, is as jaunty and joyous in its style, its coloring, its daintiness and its desirability as are all the things of beauty and joy in the world of outdoors.

A great mart or market, now ready, double the size of a few weeks ago—doubled to meet the doubling business—opens its numerous entrances each day to greet you and serve you more generously with big values than you may be served at any other store whatsoever.

This store's large successes depend upon meriting your confidence in a very large and substantial way.

So, in the very broad and far reaching Selling Campaigns of May, evidence of which will reach you in these columns every day, you are sure to find the things—legions of them—that will add to your comfort and profit.

Conveniences

Do you really know this store? Do you know that we have a

Photograph Studio

Complete, well appointed? And that the department adjoining does hair-dressing? We have put these departments together for your convenience.

The Dairy Lunch Room

Will serve you with dairy products at prices very reasonable indeed. A hundred feet of shining oak counters, enough waitresses to give quick service.

The Cafe

Is in the adjoining room, Section G, Fourth Floor of the Main St. building. Its menu, changed every day, of course, is very well chosen indeed, and well served.

The Soda Fountain

Is ready for you! And "Jones's" drinks are becoming famous. Try them.

Shoe Repairing

Is done in the Twelfth and Main St. Basement—done by electric machinery—done by the machines upon which Shoes are made in the first place. So they come from the hands of our repair men—with all the trimmings and finish they had when they were new.

The Art Gallery

Has been installed in Sections E and F of the Third Floor. Paintings by some of the most noted artists in this country and Europe are here, but as a Gallery of Western Art the greater part are Indian scenes and pictures of pioneer life on the plains. They are well displayed. See them.

We Will Repair Your Shoes

Twelfth and Main St. Basement.

AND repair these upon the same Goodyear machines upon which Shoes are made. So they look like new Shoes when they come out of this repair shop. We can half sole a pair of Shoes in twenty minutes for 75c—see them. All our other prices are proportionately low. It is interesting to see these electric machines do their work.

The Chaperon.

Questions on beauty aids, social customs and affairs that come up daily in the experience of busy people will receive prompt answers, Monday, from

THE CHAPERON.

Dear Chaperon: Suppose you were stepmother to a bright little girl of 6.

His father is the only one who has ever punished him, and that perhaps too severely and often.

Every one else humors him.

I do want to make a little gentleman of him. Tell me what my attitude should be.

Do you believe unqualifiedly in "Spare the rod and spoil the child?"

As the father seems to be an expert and economist in the art of punishing his child, I do not see why you should feel called upon to supplement the treatment.

No doubt the boy needs to be trained and corrected, as is the common lot with boys.

But punishment is quite a different and less intellectual exercise.

Why not try moral suasion? That term is overworked by theorists, but it is susceptible of practical application.

There are people who will tell you that the rule of the rod depends upon the nature of the offense, the temperament of the person with authority.

They might go further and admit that the rod is frequently wielded by a grown up because he is in a wrathful mood and bigger and stouter than the victim of his cruel blows.

When Solomon promulgated that doctrine, there were doubtless men in the land who might have profited by the same corrective influence if there had been giants in attendance to illustrate the value of the remedial agent.

Relative size is an important factor in the use of the rod, and it takes a peculiar disposition to enjoy winning the victory in a one-sided game.

What posterity would like to know is whether Solomon's precept was deduced from observation or personal experience.

And in regions where it still exists, it would be a matter of interest to find out whether the whip or the rod for adults is called into requisition for those who missed or for those who felt the force of the rod in the days of their youth.

I am not prepared to say that there is never a time or circumstance that a whipping or some other violent form of punishment is not advisable. But it doesn't seem to me that you need to lend a hand in that direction.

Why of 8 is more often won over by affection than by force is really subjugated by fear. Praise when he does the right thing, and a sympathetic talk in which his error is pointed out when he does wrong, will do a great deal toward developing his pride in good traits and fine manners.

Just now the child needs more than anything, all the mother love and the mother trust that you can give him.

And in the solicitude of your heart, eliminate that first syllable from your name in happy furtherance of the relationship existing between yourself and the little lad.

Plain Man: Your lot happens to be cast among people who boast continually of the blue blood of their families.

As for yourself, the best you can say is that your ancestors were good, honest and successful.

The one who served in the Civil war as a common soldier. There were no "generals" among them.

Others pioneered and tilled the soil, and so the family "lost out" in judges and doctors.

For anybody who claims to stand as a consequence you feel that your neighbors do not consider you their equal.

Even grant that you are right in your surmise, it remains with you to compel their respect and win their admiration.

When a family grows richer exploiting the marvelous deeds of its forefathers, one suspects that the blue blood isn't keeping up the circulation that properly belongs to it.

Here you have in life was prepared for them without any exercise of energy or brain work on the part of the present generation.

As the only real greatness is to be faithful to duty wherever it calls, I cannot see that your neighbors have you distanced in the least.

The present tense question of vital importance is what are you doing with the opportunities at hand?

In this Twentieth century it is man to man—with the path of honor, if not of fame, open to the one who keeps his conscience clear and always does his best.

Lord Coleridge felt the pride of personal worth when in reply to an attack in the House of Lords he said:

"I am perfectly aware—no man knows it better—that in respect to ancient descent I am a nobleman. I have no claim to stand among Your Lordships as an English nobleman; but I do claim, in point of honor and integrity, to be the perfect equal of the proudest peer in Your Lordships' house."

To further your temporal interests, make a specialty of neatness in penmanship, and reconstruct the words "village" and "village" on a more conventional plan of spelling.

Justine: Your fiancé is opposed to your receiving attentions from other young men, yet he calls on other young women and even accompanies them to places of entertainment.

Are you justified in breaking the engagement on that account? Talk it over with your fiancé and submit the question to him.

A Star Reader: Your guest for the night who called her fiancé by telephone and asked him to come over and spend the evening, without consulting you, was presuming to say the least.

Further evidence of disregard for the family of her hostess was manifest in devoting her time and attention to the man who came at her bidding.

You say, "This young woman has attended college and claims to be educated."

It is a pity that the education of the girl was so simple and so imprudent, and failed to show proper respect to those who had professed her hospitality.

That the incident was a mistake in your home, without further invitations which would make it possible.

C. G.: The young man who told you that he would take you to an entertainment "if you would remind him of it when the time comes," might subject himself to a tax on memory and save you the trouble.

Shall you really care to go, he will not forget. Shall you remind him? Not if you wish him to consider the pleasure as much his as yours.

Dear Chaperon: When I read "Would Like to Know" queries as to why her husband was not like he used to be, I wondered if she shows him the same deference she did when they were sweethearts.

Some people I know are always complaining when they have the least pain or ache.

I feel into that miserable habit myself, but was cured of it by a sister-in-law, who could out-grow me ten to one.

She was always complaining, though she had a good appetite and was always ready to go visiting or to a dance.

No one tired of hearing, "Oh, I've such a headache," and "I've such a pain in my side."

We never knew whether or not she was sick, so I resolved no matter how many disagreeable physical feelings I had I would not speak of them till it was absolutely necessary.

And do you know what remained of my aches, I really did not seem to have so many?

I know we all like sympathy, but it is so easy to wear sympathy out when we are not badly afflicted.

Now, don't think I'm unsympathetic, for I have a great deal of compassion both for the sick one and for those who must listen to a recital of ailments until they wish there was just one healthy person in the world.

Seeking Light: Are you too old at 22 to take an academic course of study?

By no means. Weak eyesight, which interrupted your school days, brought with it compensations that you will appreciate further along.

You will find that you have greater mental grasp, more matured judgment and insight into sciences that in your earlier youth would have been to you mere tasks to be learned by rote.

As preparation, provide yourself with a catalogue of some good school. Look over the text books in the course and review the ones in which you feel most need of brushing up.

Is your age against you? On the contrary, it is greatly in your favor.

Subscriber: Your question is referred to the editor of Answers department of The Star.

X. Y. Z.: At 18, with delicate health and deep depression of spirits, the comes with weariness, you should not wear mourning.

For your health's sake, get away from black and somber garb that brings back too vividly the grief which only time can assuage.

A band of crepe on a colored sleeve is not good form.

Do not worry about the criticisms of censorious people. Comfort by one another in your life with bright colors, sunshine, fresh flowers and soothing melodies—such as the loved and lost would approve and urge in place of heart-breaking anguish over the irrevocable.

It is not that you love the dead less, but that your duty to the living comes in imparting good cheer at a time when all without looks dark and desolate.

Joan Belle: For the past year you say you "have been flirting, yes, desperately flirting" with a young man for whom you care nothing.

But you live in the country and have no brothers, and you wanted to go to college, and the young man was always ready to accompany you.

You were not above making him the victim of your caprices to relieve monotony during the absence of your fiancé, who is hundreds of miles away.

And you have the effrontery to ask me how you can let this recent escapade know that you do not care for him "in the least," and yet retain his friendship?

What do you know about friendship of a good, high-principled kind? Do you think yourself worthy of the genuine article? Do you know that the price of the game you have been playing may be broken faith in womanhood, blighted hopes and the tragic end to a sensitive nature, too weak and dependent to realize a blessing when it descends suddenly upon him?

If a man is of stronger qualities, what a contempt he will have for your pretenses. He will not regret you, but in the awakening he will find himself picturing the girl he thought you were and comparing her with your real self, and feel that something awful has come out of his life.

Before he is able to grasp all of your duplicity, he may even envy the other man. After a while you will be nothing more than a proud and empty shell of a girl he wouldn't be proud to call his wife.

Insecurity is an element that pervades a disposition in all the conduct of daily life. For that reason, if no other, the flirtatious person, once understood, fails to inspire either confidence or affection.

There is no excuse or apology for your present dilemma. You deserve to devise a way of relief without assistance.

Dear Chaperon: For the benefit of "Country Maid" regarding the penny game, try this one: Place ten pennies in one continuous row. Now pick up one penny. Carry it over two, placing it on the third each time until you have them in five piles of two pennies each. This can be worked, but not easily.

Dear Chaperon: A man or woman of this day and age who misleads ordinary readers and writes them so that they can with difficulty be read, is inexcusable.

How a person can become reasonably proficient in all the branches of mathematics, sciences, and at the same time cannot write letters without mispelling half a dozen words, I, for one, cannot understand.

I never went to school more than five months before I was 20 years of age. After that I managed to get by with the facilities of the human mind and body, such as would prepare a person for the most nearly perfect lives in the world to come.

Education is a part of one's self.

Now about that fellow who found twenty-nine misspelled words in a letter written by his fiance. If I were he I would keep that to myself.

Anyone who goes so far as to become engaged to a young lady without knowing anything about her writing and spelling should keep quiet on that point.

It has been my observation that schools—especially in the South—have been and are still making the mistake of pushing the pupils into higher mathematics and Latin before they are proficient in common branches.

Take everything in its logical order.

FATHER OF ONE.

"Mother of Three" mentions the inability of high school graduates to spell correctly.

I wish she had mentioned also the almost universal ignorance of common branches evidenced by most of the graduates.

I wonder how many of them could give the value of a pile of wood of certain dimensions at so much per cord—the value of so many pounds of wheat at so much per bushel—the location of Van Diemen's land, or the island of Madagascar, give the method of election of the President of the United States, or describe the battle of Bull Run.

In basic to pursue the studies of Greek, Latin, etc., our pupils are permitted to skim over the surface of these important foundation studies.

They are woefully deficient in modern history, wonderfully proficient in elementary arithmetic, while they can glibly demonstrate a theorem or write a learned thesis in faulty grammar and orthography.

This unfortunate state of affairs is due, not to the pupil, but to our high school system. The student is forced beyond his ability.

After the severe arraignment of those using incorrect grammar, it is rather amusing to note in the answer to "Bachelor Maid" the expression, "Words is in questionable taste."

If it is questionable taste for me to criticize this, forgive me, dear chaperon, for you are right so often that one little error ought to be overlooked.

EX-TEACHER.

Orthography: What reasonable ground have you for assuming that the misspelling of twenty-six words—or was it twenty-nine—in three pages, was the writer's "greatest fault?"

THE HOUSE OPPOSITE. A MYSTERY.

BY ELIZABETH KENT.

CHAPTER III.—A CORONER'S INQUEST.

WE took our places at the foot of the body, with our backs to the light and silently awaited developments. In a few minutes McGorry returned, followed by the electrician, and during the rest of the time remained in the room checking off the men as they came in.

It is needless for me to repeat all the testimony, as a great deal of it was irrelevant. The electrician, engineer, and janitor all passed the ordeal without adding to our information.

The watchman when called persisted, after the severest cross-questioning, in his first assertion that neither on Wednesday night nor last night had he seen or heard anything suspicious. The only person he had admitted on either night was Mr. Atkins, who had returned at about half-past 1 that very morning; he was sure that he had seen no stranger leave the building.

At last Jim, the elevator boy, was called. He appeared still very much frightened, and only looked at the body with the greatest reluctance.

"Have you ever seen this man before?" demanded the coroner.

"No, sah," answered Jim, in a shaking voice.

"Now, my lad, take another look at him. Are you still so sure that you have never seen him before?" gently insisted Mr. Merritt. "For, you see, we have reason to believe that you have."

Jim began to tremble violently, as he cast another glance at the dead man.

"Lord-a-massy, sah; p'raps I did, p'raps I did; I dunno, he looks some like—not 'actly."

"Do you know his name?"

"No, sah."

"When did you see him last?"

"Tuesday ebenin', sah." Here the boy glanced apprehensively at McGorry.

"Come, come, my lad," the coroner exclaimed, impatiently; "tell us all you know about the man. The truth, now, and the whole truth, mind you; and don't you look at any one to see how they are going to like what you say, either."

"No, sah," Jim hesitated a moment, then burst out: "I do think as he's the same gem'man as come to see Miss Derwent last winter, and he come to call on her about half-past 6 on Tuesday."

"Miss Derwent?" exclaimed McGorry, taking a step forward.

"McGorry," said the coroner, severely, "don't try to interfere with justice and intimidate witnesses. Now, my boy, tell us how long did the gentleman stay with Miss Derwent?"

"De went out together 'most immediately, and den dey come back together."

"At what time did they return?"

"Must have been 'bout eight, sah."

"Did he go upstairs with the young lady?"

"Yes, sah."

"When did he leave?"

"I can't say, sah; I didn't see him leave."

"How was that?"

"Well, you see, sah, in de summer, when de house is mos' empty, we 's not no particular as we are in de winter, and we takes turn and turn about oftener, specially in de ebenin'."

"I see," said the coroner.

"An' so dat ebenin' I goes off at half-past eight and Joe he run de elevator till eleven."

"Did anyone call on Miss Derwent yesterday?"

"I see nobody, sah."

"Did the young lady go out during the day?"

"Yes, sah."

employees of the building," said the coroner, "and must begin on the families and their servants."

"Yes, Mr. Coroner, and I think I had better step upstairs myself and tell Mr. and Mrs. Atkins that you want to see them," said Mr. Merritt, "and, in case the lady should be overcome by the sad news, perhaps it would be as well for Dr. Fortescue to come along also."

I was only too delighted, of course. Not waiting for the elevator, we walked up the intervening flight and rang a bell on our right. The door was opened by a neat looking maid, who showed some surprise at our early call.

"Is Mr. Atkins at home?" inquired the detective.

"Yes, sir; but he is having his breakfast."

"Ah, indeed; I am sorry, to disturb him," replied Mr. Merritt. "However, it can't be helped. Will you please tell your master that two gentlemen must see him for a few moments on important business."

"Yes, sir," and showing us into a gaudily furnished room on our left, the girl vanished. I saw at once that this was not the scene of last night's drama, but a smaller room adjoining the other. My observations were almost immediately interrupted by the entrance of a young man, whose handsome face was at that moment disfigured by a scowl.

"Mr. Atkins, I believe," said Mr. Merritt, advancing towards him with his most conciliatory smile. Mr. Atkins nodded curtly. "It is my painful duty," continued the detective, "to inform you that a very serious accident has occurred in the building."

"Did you see Miss Derwent on Tuesday?"

"Yes, sah; I seen her arrive."

"Didn't a gentleman answering to this description call here at about half-past 6 and ask for a lady?"

"I couldn't say, sah; I wa'n't in de building at dat time."
